To Whom This May Concern:

I filed a claim on your settlement website.

Objection to Economic Loss
Settlement

ALSO please note: I've had a few people check & replace all kinds of brake parts to try to get them to work properly. After investing a lot of time & money they remained puzzled as to what the problem is. Then, I wondered if it was a factory defect. (I don't feel safe.)

After reading about this settlement, it makes sense. I need a new brake system which I saw is part of the list of class action settlement things to occur, at no cost to me. But when will it be possible? Can I arrange to have you do this now? They're horrible.

I must say, it NEEDS to be sooner than later but if I understand right, you're not going to help people who go ahead & have them replaced beforehand.

If for some reason the settlement doesn't end up including a new brake operating system for me, at no cost to me. Chances are, I will object since I filed a claim based on that being included in the settlement.

Concerned driver,

Cindy Blake
